This performance data represents past performance and does not guarantee future results. There is no guarantee that the circumstances leading to this performance will be replicated in the future. Year-to-date and since inception total return are the compounded rate of change in value during a period of investment, including the value of shares acquired through reinvestment of all dividends and of all capital gain distributions for the period. There is no assurance that the fund will achieve its investment objective. An investment should be made with an understanding of the risks that an investment in debt securities entails. These include the risk that the financial condition of the issuers of the securities in the portfolio, or the condition of the bond market in general, may decline. Fund shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Under normal market conditions, the fund invests at least 80% of its assets in investment grade bonds or in bonds that are not rated, but that the manager had determined to be of comparable quality. Varying economic and market conditions may affect the value of, and yields on, the debt securities the fund holds. There may also be changes in the issuer's ability to make timely interest and principal payments. The market prices of debt securities generally move inversely to changes in the interest rates. Therefore, the fund's net asset value can be expected to rise when interest rates decline and decline when interest rates rise. Mortgage-backed securities tend not to move in this same manner, as homeowners prepayment of their mortgage obligations generally accelerates during a period of falling interest rates, which can affect the prices of the mortgage securities the fund holds.
